Age & Gender Equity in the Arts (AGE) is committed to respecting the privacy of our donors. We follow this privacy policy to ensure our donors that donor information will not be shared with any third party.

Contact Information

Age & Gender Equity in the Arts collects and uses various information from donors including: donation amount, email address, mailing address, telephone number, and donor comments. Tax laws require AGE to keep contact information and donor contribution levels on file.

AGE uses donor information to provide service and understand our donors' needs. AGE will never sell, trade, rent or share names (unless released for publication), e-mail or mail addresses, or telephone numbers of our donors. We list donors on our website and in printed marketing materials but will remove a donor's name from the list at any time upon that donor's request. AGE will use contact information (e-mail, telephone number and address) of donors for these purposes only:

- Distribute receipts for donations
- Thank donors for donations
- Inform donors about upcoming AGE activities
- Internal analysis and record keeping
- Donor contact about changes to this policy

Properly anonymized donor information is used for promotional and fundraising activities. AGE allows donors the option to have their name publicly associated with their donation unless the donor expressly chooses to remain "anonymous."
